Crunching numbers in the kitchen

For immediate release

Los Angeles—November 29, 2005— The accounting firm of Stonefield Josephson is sharing some number-crunching tips this holiday season. But these numbers aren't measured in the usual dollars and cents, they're measured in tablespoons and teaspoons, pinches and dashes.

"CPAs Food & Wine," a high-quality 20-page booklet produced by the firm, features 15 food and drink recipes from the popular "Back Porch" feature on the Stonefield Josephson website (www.sjaccounting.com). They range from the savory Chicken Tarragon in Endive Leaves to a tasty Dutch Oven Cobbler to the potent concoction called Fish House Punch.

The booklet is "hosted" by President Jeff Garrison and it features favorite recipes from Stonefield Josephson principals. Each recipe is accompanied by Garrison's suggestion for a wine or other drink to complement it.

"We have a lot of fun with food and wine. It's very much a part of the firm culture," said Lyne Noella, Stonefield Josephson's director of corporate strategy. She cited the example of firm co-founder Marty Josephson. Josephson and his wife have other couples over each Valentine's Day and the men do the cooking while the women relax.

"But there is also a practical business side to entertaining," she pointed out. "Having people over to your home and cooking for them deepens the bonds with clients."

The booklet, Noella said, is the firm's way "to promote coming together and cooking fine food, whether it be with family, friends or clients."

Complimentary copies of "CPAs Food & Wine" are available from Stonefield Josephson by calling toll-free (866) 225-4511. Recipes can also be accessed via the firm's website.

Stonefield Josephson Inc. (www.sjaccounting.com) is a California-based certified public accounting firm founded in 1975. The full-service firm serves public and privately held clients throughout the United States and internationally from four California locations: Los Angeles, Orange County, San Francisco and East Bay.
